

Why Nuclear?

“Our security depends on it – national security, energy security, and economic security. Our future relies on it – environment, climate, and standard of living. Together, we will deliver.”

— Bob Coward, ANS President and MPR Principal Officer

Established in 1954, the American Nuclear Society (ANS) is an international professional organization of engineers and scientists devoted to the peaceful applications of nuclear science and technology. Its more than 10,000 members represent government, academia, research laboratories, medical facilities and private industry.

The Society serves as an advocate for individuals and organizations having a stake in nuclear science and technology. ANS produces position papers covering current nuclear-related topics, and our Washington, D.C. office acts as a technical resource to senior policy and decision makers. Through the Honors and Awards Program, ANS recognizes members for outstanding efforts and accomplishments in their fields.

Why ANS?

To advance your career!

Gain Knowledge and a Professional Edge

ANS leads in the development, dissemination, and application of nuclear science and technology:

- Books, magazines, journals, articles, and papers
- Conferences, meetings, and workshops
- Development of industry standards
- FREE online access to current and archived ANS Journals

Stand with a Credible Voice Supporting the Advancement of Nuclear Science

Raise awareness with the general public, regulators, and legislators:

- ANS Center for Nuclear Science and Technology Information
- Congressional Seminar Series, teacher workshops, and position papers
- ANS Engage to advocate for nuclear

Access tools to Network and Collaborate with Peers, Leaders and Mentors

- ANS Collaborate: a virtual networking site exclusively for members
- ANS Mentor Match: connect through an online database for mentors and mentees
- Volunteer opportunities within divisions and committees

Recognition through Honors and Awards

ANS has a vigorous program to honor outstanding achievement and meritorious service in nuclear science and technology.

Included in Your Membership

- Nuclear News – Monthly worldwide developments in the nuclear field
- ANS Nuclear Policy Wire – Stay current on federal legislative and regulatory developments impacting nuclear science and technology
- ANS News – Bi-monthly reporting on the activities of the society, including public outreach efforts, position statements, honors and awards, and member news
- Nuclear Headlines – Nuclear-related e-news coverage from 25,000 global sources, updated every 15 minutes
